Personal Recollections

Enid was born August 7, 1912, third of six children of Fredric Thomas Leiner and Hazelton Marye (DILLARD) Leiner, in the home of Fred's mother on Main Street, in Sparta, Illinois. About two years later the family, Fred and Hazel, & little-Dillard, Doris and Enid, moved to East St Louis, Illinois, where they bought a house in Lansdowne subdivision of East St. Louis, on 3011 Forest Place.

It was a large house with many rooms, three stories, and they hung laundry to dry in the attic in winter and on rainy days. A family friend, Jim lived with them part of the time and helped Hazel with chores, the gardening, livestock- chickens for eggs and a goat for milk. Enid attended and graduated high school in East St Louis, and attended college at Washington University in St Louis, MO for two years. She worked for her father at his livestock sales business, the Leiner Commission Co, and then the Stockyards National Bank, where she met future spouse; Robert Louis Bach.

Robert was dating Enid's best girlfriend, whose mom had him lined up for marriage: her Mom offered him the family heirloom diamond, to be set in a tasteful setting for the engagement ring for Robert and her daughter. Robert was flabbergasted. Balking, he confided in Enid, who promptly rescued him, took him dancing & he kissed her on the dance floor. Being a country boy, he did the right thing and married Enid.

Religion was a big barrier they never overcame: Robert was raised Catholic. His siblings were greatly saddened when he married outside his church. Much of his family life had revolved around christenings, communions, funerals, masses and family gatherings. Robert missed it, but was not active in his church. Enid refused to be part of his church. Enid was from a split-religion home also.

Her dad was raised Lutheran but he was inactive; her mother practiced Christian Scientist. The kids went to Sunday school with Hazel. Robert allowed Enid to attend her church, even willing to drive her and let her take the kids. Enid seldom went-I can count the times. Enid chose a middle name for herself, LOWEEN...maybe the childhood pronunciation of her baby sister's name, Lorene. Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt F.H.C.

Enid (LEINER) at about 3 yrs. She called herself "Enie". Enid's whole family lived with her grandmother; Lorena Belle (TAGGART) Leiner at 515 West Broadway, Sparta City, Sparta Precinct, Randolph County, Illinois, United States when she was born, August 7, 1912.

Her grandpa; Frederic Leiner had died in 1906, her grandpa; William Wirt Dillard Sr. died in 1905, her grandma Margaret "Maggie" (SPINDLE) Dillard died in 1899.

Gram Lorena was living with Enid's family in the 1930 census and died in 1934.

Enid (LEINER) at Girl Scout Camp circa 1930's posted by Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt

Enid was among the first to camp at the Girl Scout Camp, Ouatoga, at Pere Marquette State Park, Grafton, Quarry Township, Jersey County, Illinois, United States. There was a Boy Scout Camp there also called Camp Vandeventer at Waterloo, Monroe County, Illinois, United States.

These sites were developed through the 1930's WPA. The Work Progress Association was our government's attempt to let welfare recipients earn their benefits. The original federal welfare program had men work on government projects like building parks and laying brick street pavement, building dams & public buildings like courthouses or libraries. Federal taxes paid these men $30 a month.

During the 1930's depression, many men worked for 12 cents an hour. Bread was a nickel a loaf. Many kids picked up soda bottles to turn in for a penny so they could get food. And they got shoes, maybe, once a year.

The Girl Scouts broke down the girl's ages 9-10, 11-12, 13-14, 15-16, in groups. Enid was an instructor for the 9-10 age group, while Bonnie in the 1956 season was in the 11-12 age group and Melanie was in a swim counselor.

Pere Marquette State Park is a nature lover's paradise. In addition to enjoying the spectacular views of the Illinois River and its backwaters from several points atop the bluffs, visitors can take advantage of a variety of year-round recreational opportunities, including horseback riding, camping, hiking, fishing, hunting and boating.

Pere Marquette's Visitor Center has a 3-D map of the park and wealth of other displays and exhibits concerning the Illinois River, wildlife habitat, local history and geology.

Fall color drives are popular along the wooded ravines and riverside roadways at and near Pere Marquette. In January and February, the park is a hot spot for bald eagle watching.

For many years, the park has hosted tours of the river bluffs and woods for visitors to get an up-close look at wintering bald eagles in the hundreds along the Mississippi River and lower Illinois River near the park.

Campers will find plenty to like at Pere Marquette, from campsites and cabins to the popular Youth Tent Camp and three group camps.

The beautiful Pere Marquette Lodge and Conference Center is an ideal place to stay for a weekend or weekday getaway. Built in the 1930s by the Civilian Conservation Corps, the lodge has been expanded and updated in recent years. The mammoth stone fireplace in the lobby soars to a roof height of 50 feet, and is said to weigh 700 tons. There are 50 spacious guest rooms and 22 stone guest cabin rooms.

Before going there, they toured San Francisco. The Golden Gate Bridge had just opened, they had lunch at the Brown Derby, went to the Rose Parade, Catalina Island and other places. Enid came back and attended a year at Washington University in Saint Louis, Missouri as an art student.

Her parents sent her on the vacation because she was falling in love with a boy her parents disapproved, so they sent her off to broaden her horizons.

This marriage license application shows Enid's lifelong home at 3011 Forest Place and the efficiency apartment, at 656 North 37th Street, East Saint Louis, Illinois, which Bob had just rented for them to live in, where they stayed until Melanie was an issue.

Then a little 2-bedroom bungalow on Adelaide became home until August of 1945, when Bonnie was the baby in the woven wood laundry basket.

Then they bought and moved to 614 North 82nd Street, East Saint Louis, Illinois, and set the basket on the kitchen counter. The linoleum floor got filthy from the move; Enid said it took forever to get it clean.

At Grandmother; Hazelton "Hazel" Marye (DILLARD) Leiner's house, 112 Kenwood Lane, Collinsville, Collinsville Township, Madison County, Illinois, United States about January 1951. I remember it was bitter cold.

Bonnie Kathleen (BACH), Enid (LEINER) Bach, Michael "Mike" William Bach, & Melanie Jane (BACH) just before we jumped into our '47 Pontiac to drive to our home at 614 North 82nd Street.

We had blankets to snuggle under & often fell asleep-Mel & I in the back seat. The car heater was not so good.

Next we got a 1952 2dr Plymouth midnight blue. Dad's 1st new car-he needed decent transportation to go to work at the old American Zinc Plant in Fairmont City, Illinois. He became a foreman. Good for him, less stairs to climb. He had a heart condition.

Old American Zinc in Fairmont City, St. Clair County, Illinois, operated as a primary zinc smelter from approximately 1913 until 1967. While in operation, it produced slab zinc, zinc oxides, zinc carbonate, cadmium, lead, and sulfuric acid. Slag was a by-product of the zinc smelting process. On the basis of information reviewed, the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH) now concludes that the site poses a public health hazard to on-site workers and possibly to area children.

The south side of our 82nd Street house was along the alley. By our bedroom window, Melanie (Mimi) and me, there was a giant Dutch elm tree, which squeaked when the forked branch rubbed on a wood splint on the electric line when the wind blew strongly.

We lay in our bed and watched the cars stop at the stop sign on State Street. STOP was the first word I learned to spell. Later the city put up a red, yellow and green traffic light.

Things I remember: laying on the bed on hot summer nights, burning autumn leaves in the alley, snow scenes, and Mr. Besse's rose garden and fish pond.

I remember our coal furnace, putting hot clinkers out in the snow, daddy moving them to the alley to fill in potholes. And getting cinder fragments in my hands and knees when I fell down in the alley.

The idea for a beer garden and restaurant on the site of the old Johnson estate first occurred to gentlemen remembered only as the Rice brothers.

Financed by the Home Brewery Company, they opened the Highlands Cottage Restaurant in 1896. To attract further attention, they installed a horse drawn merry-go-round.

Even that failed to keep the grove going more than one season and it was lost to the brewery, owned by the Stuever family, which soon formed a company owned principally by the late Anton "Tony" Stuever.

A now yellowed and brittle copy of the St. Louis Republic of May 23, 1897, carried a small notice stating that Forest Park Highlands ("the finest and largest open-air enterprise in the West") was open for business.

Attractions offered were "10 new and novel features including a scenic railway." Admission to the grounds was free. On the stage of Col. John D. Hopkins' Vaudeville Theater one could see Comedienne Marie Dressler - 10 cents in the gallery, 20 cents in the balcony and 30 cents downstairs.

MANY CELEBRITIES

"We had all kinds of celebrities on the stage," related Max Bitterlich, superintendent, who joined the organization in 1900 and has been an employee of the Highlands ever since. "I was just a kid when I started here and I remember when Marie Dressler jokingly gave me $15 for 14 kisses.

"The old-timers will remember Pipinta, the great dances, and The Girl With the Auburn Hair. I remember her, too. She dressed all in white and sang at an altar. While she was singing I was pumping the organ."

Others who performed before the 10-20-30 audiences were Sophie Tucker, Eugene Cowles, baritone; Della Fox, who originated the fishhook curl which graced many feminine foreheads for some time, and Charity Simpson, a Gypsy Rose Lee of long ago.

Both James J. Corbett and Jack Dempsey gave exhibition performances there. As Bitterlich said: "They came and went every week. You can't remember all the people who were here.

One of the greatest attractions to the horse and buggy trade was the band concerts, held in the pagoda built originally for the St. Louis World's Fair and moved to the park in 1905.

There were band concerts every afternoon and evening, and among the greats who performed was John Phillip Sousa.

The "thrill" rides of yesteryear, while not as speedy on the whole as those of today, were many times as dangerous.

Outstanding among them was the Loop-the-Loop installed in 1902. Dan Elie, who now operates the Tilt-a-Whirl, used to ride in the contraption to prove how safe it was, but there were many accidents.

PEOPLE DIFFERENT THEN

"People were different then than now," who became general manager in 1926. (sic, something is missing here) "It didn't occur to them that it was anyone's fault but their own if they got hurt. Now we have to be very sure that the rides are safe, in good condition and, as nearly fool-proof as possible before we allow them to be used."

On the other hand, this generation would never stand still for anything as tame as "Hale's Tours." It was nothing more than a series of pictures, which gave the illusion of movement while the customer sat in a chair.

The Highlands Cottage Restaurant continued until prohibition, which caused a great falling off of business in that concession. It had been housed in the Johnson mansion, a building now 125 years old, and after the law was repealed, it became the Penny Arcade - which is still going strong.

DEPRESSION A REAL TEST

It was during the depression, however, that the real test came. "We managed to keep just a half jump ahead of the Sheriff, like everyone else," Ketchum recalled.

It was during that period, in 1934, that both the Arena and Forest Park Highlands were sold to the Reorganization Investment Company for $848,560.

The struggle to keep above water for a few years was responsible for the introduction of Dollar Day, which long ago passed out of the picture.

For one buck you could spend an entire afternoon or evening at the park, riding anything you wished. The only restriction was that you get off after each ride and give the other fellow a chance.

Although depressions occur only occasionally, the Highlands, like other outdoor amusement parks, is always threatened by the weather, but the year 1915 offered the greatest hazard. Out of a 120-day season, 90 days were practically scratched off the calendar by rain.

In honor of this year's celebration, a new entrance to the park has been built at a cost of some $125,000. It's a far cry from the structure which faced the public from 1909 until early this year and a still farther cry from the modest little wooden affair put up around 1896.

"You know." Ketchum concluded, we often have elderly women come up to the office and tell us about the old days when they came here and that now they're bringing their great grand-children. I wonder what they think of the change."

Regardless of what they think of it, Ketchum insists that the new entrance is no longer an entrance - from now on it will be referred to as "the rotunda."

Added in 1983 by the editors of the Dogtown Dispatch:

For many years after the fair, the amusement park's bandstand was a huge Japanese gate structure from the World's Fair's Pike. Known as the "Big Place on the Hill", the Highlands was the City's largest amusement park and the scene of countless school picnics and pleasure jaunts.

It boasted of two roller coasters, the "Mountain Ride" and the "Racer Dip," a merry-go-round, all sorts of rides, shooting galleries, swimming pool, dance ballroom, a fun house, and a large picnic grounds. In its later years, the Forest Park Highlands suffered from a decline in business and met a tragic end when it was destroyed by fire in 1963. Its site is now occupied by the Junior College. [End of Quote]

Should be noted, Floyd Thomas Pratt's father; Floyd Theodore Pratt aged 21 in September 1948 met my stepmother; Dorothy (BEDNAREK) at one of the dance pavilions at Highlands Amusement Park. When they danced for the first time, Dorothy being 5'11", six foot Floyd said, "Kinda tall aren't you" Dorothy replied, "I know it fella, you don't have to tell me!" Floyd realized Dorothy had spirit and was feisty, sort of sassy and this appealed to him and he took notice she was a fun and an interesting person...and tall. He decided to pursue a relationship. So, with the beginning of light-minded banter, a romance began to blossom. They were married 18 February 1949. Floyd Thomas Pratt F.H.C., M.A.G.I.

I (Bonnie) moved here in September 1964, Janis Karen (ELLIOTT) was 18 months; Sandra Lynn (ELLIOTT) was 2 months. I lived here when Jeffrey William (ELLIOTT) was born in 1965. My divorce from James Kenneth Elliott was final in 1967.

I stayed here until I married Clarence Raymond Surmeier in 1969. Then I moved to an apartment complex, which my parent's owned in Ellisville, Saint Louis County, Missouri.

Enid and Bob sold their bank stock in the Bartelso Savings Bank and paid their loans. They had no cash profit but they had a capital gains income problem on paper.

A savings & loan company in St Louis had foreclosed on an apartment complex in Ellisville, Saint Louis County, Missouri and needed to unload it. They discounted the down payment and signed the property over to Bob and Enid and a partner; Harry Menzel, a small time real estate agent. Harry helped manage and upkeep the property. After we were married, Clarence and I lived there and managed the apartment complex.

It was a tavern where Robert's father; Blase Bach, then the town schoolteacher, would go each Friday afternoon to collect the farmer's milk checks and invest them in treasury bonds.

Finally, Blase got a charter and started the bank.

New Bartelso Savings Bank
1965 Open House.

When Dad became bank president in 1958, the bank was in debt by $500,000.

By 1968 he turned it around to a $2,300,000 surplus. In 1965 this new building was constructed.

Also, in the book "Robert Louis Bach with Photos and Tales" there is a picture of his father, Blase, in front of the old Bartelso Savings Bank.

The proceeds would fund school activities for the next year. A great Sunday dinner was cooked and served by the ladies. Beer, kiddie rides and bingo.

Dad, (Robert Louis Bach) the town banker, worked very hard and was up late several nights counting picnic money, before and after the picnic.

Bob's dad Blase had started the bank for his school pupils and their parents in about 1925. I have seen the charter.

Blase had cataracts in his eyes and could not see the fine bookkeeping. Bob worked with his dad as his eyes. Blase died when Bob was 17. Bob was too young to run the bank. The board of directors named another man, who ran it poorly for 24 years. When he died, Bob was called back as a cashier and eventually became the president.

One may ask, "Why did he go back to the bank and Bartelso?" The pay was low. It kept him away from wife and family. However, he was raised Catholic, and the job allowed him to be around his Catholic roots. Also, Bob became the big fish although Bartelso was a small pond.

Enid lived alone in East Saint Louis with the kids all week while friends of Bob kept a room for him in Bartelso. He drove home on Saturday afternoon, 45 miles, then back on Sunday evening. We kids missed having our daddy to nurture us.

Enid would not move into the Bartelso Catholic Community. She was a Christian Scientist. We had weekend arguments and a stalemate endured between the two for 6 years.

So, in 1963, Mom finally consented to a new house built to her (modest) specifications east of Bartelso, on a hill. Dad started a whole new subdivision there, yet another community upgrade. Dad's genius for business had a positive influence on his birthright community.

Enid (LEINER) Bach and Robert Louis Bach 25th Wedding Anniversary posted by Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt

Dad loved to participate in gatherings with friends and family.

A Catholic wedding ceremony was vital to grant Dad burial rites on consecrated ground, in the church graveyard.

He was taught that it was important to lie beside his deceased parents and extended family and have full burial rites. None of his siblings were buried there. In the end he chose Saint Johns Cemetery in Collinsville, a beautiful bald knob beside Enid's parents and siblings.

Enid chose to be cremated and have her ashes in a black box, interred on top of his coffin. (1991)

Standing on the bluff at the foot of their graves looking westward over the vast plain that once was the Mississippi River bottoms is inspirational.

Even though Bob and Enid were originally married in the Old Cathedral Roman Catholic Church in Saint Louis, they chose to renew their vows in the Saint Cecilia Roman Catholic Church in Bartelso.

It was Bob's childhood church, and they had a quiet ceremony without family or friends.

Grandmother Enid (LEINER) Bach and the Pratt family, in Decatur, Decatur Township, Macon County, Illinois, United States, December circa 1976.

We lived in Springfield, Mo. I was pregnant with Laura, who was born on Janis's birthday, March 13, 1977.

My dad; Robert "Bob" Louis Bach died Nov 11, 1970.

Enid sold the Bartelso house and moved to Decatur, Decatur Township, Macon County, Illinois, United States, about 1974.

She made her home with son; Michael "Mike" William Bach after he finished the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana. He was having a recurrence of an old intestinal illness and needed care.

They rented a house, and then rented here.

This 2 story with basement had 4 bedrooms and 1 bath, upstairs.

Michael "Mike" William Bach met Barbara "Barb" Evelyn (BROWN). She moved in, too. Then they got a place of their own and married.

Enid bought a 2-bedroom house at 1376 North Gulick Avenue in Decatur, Decatur Township, Macon County, Illinois, United States, where she lived until she died July 31, 1991. She outlived Bob by 21 years.

1991 Death of Enid (LEINER) Bach

Enid (LEINER) Bach died in Decatur, Macon County, Illinois, United States on 31 July 1991.

[1] Social Security Death Index

Name: Enid Bach SSN:332-12-6518 Born:7 Aug 1912 Died:Jul 1991 State (Year) SSN issued:Illinois Before 1951)

Personal Recollections

Enid died at age 79, just days short of her 80th birthday, from a Mesothelioma cancer that started 20 years earlier. She had worked in the office of a manufacturing plant office in Decatur, Il. Entry was through the plant.

The old building had been built in WW II times and insulated with asbestos. When the owners were required to remove it, (OSHA), bits of the grit floated down through the air. Enid must have breathed it. Because of her Christian Science training, she fought the idea of being sick until it was inoperable. After diagnosis she lived a most uncomfortable 6 weeks, until, in too much pain, her doctor and family got her to take some morphine.

Melanie came to live with her the last 2 weeks. I lived and worked in St Louis. I drove up to the hospital to see her 3 or 4 times, taking Aunt Doris twice. Melanie called me at the last to come be with them. Enid was asleep under heavy sedation and virtually gone so I did not go-and I do not regret it. I made my goodbyes when she was conscious. Years later, when my friend, Faye (ROSS), died of cancer, I was with her until almost the last. I realized she was gone before the last breath, so my presence was unnecessary. In both cases the person I knew was not there. Melanie was with her for the last breath-Enid's little helper.

I did Mom's temple work, sealed her to her husband. Bob has accepted the gospel and is progressing. He appeared to Melanie in night terrors, the final dream came about the time his work was being done. Melanie kept a dream journal, per her therapist in 1976-77. She saw Dad dressed in pale robes with a manila file folder in his arm, and Melanie told us he said to her, "I won't see you for a while. I'm going on." With that he began to rise as though he was on an escalator. Melanie told us this in summer of 1983. The dream and temple work were done for Dad in the spring of 1977. Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt F.H.C.

Personal Recollections

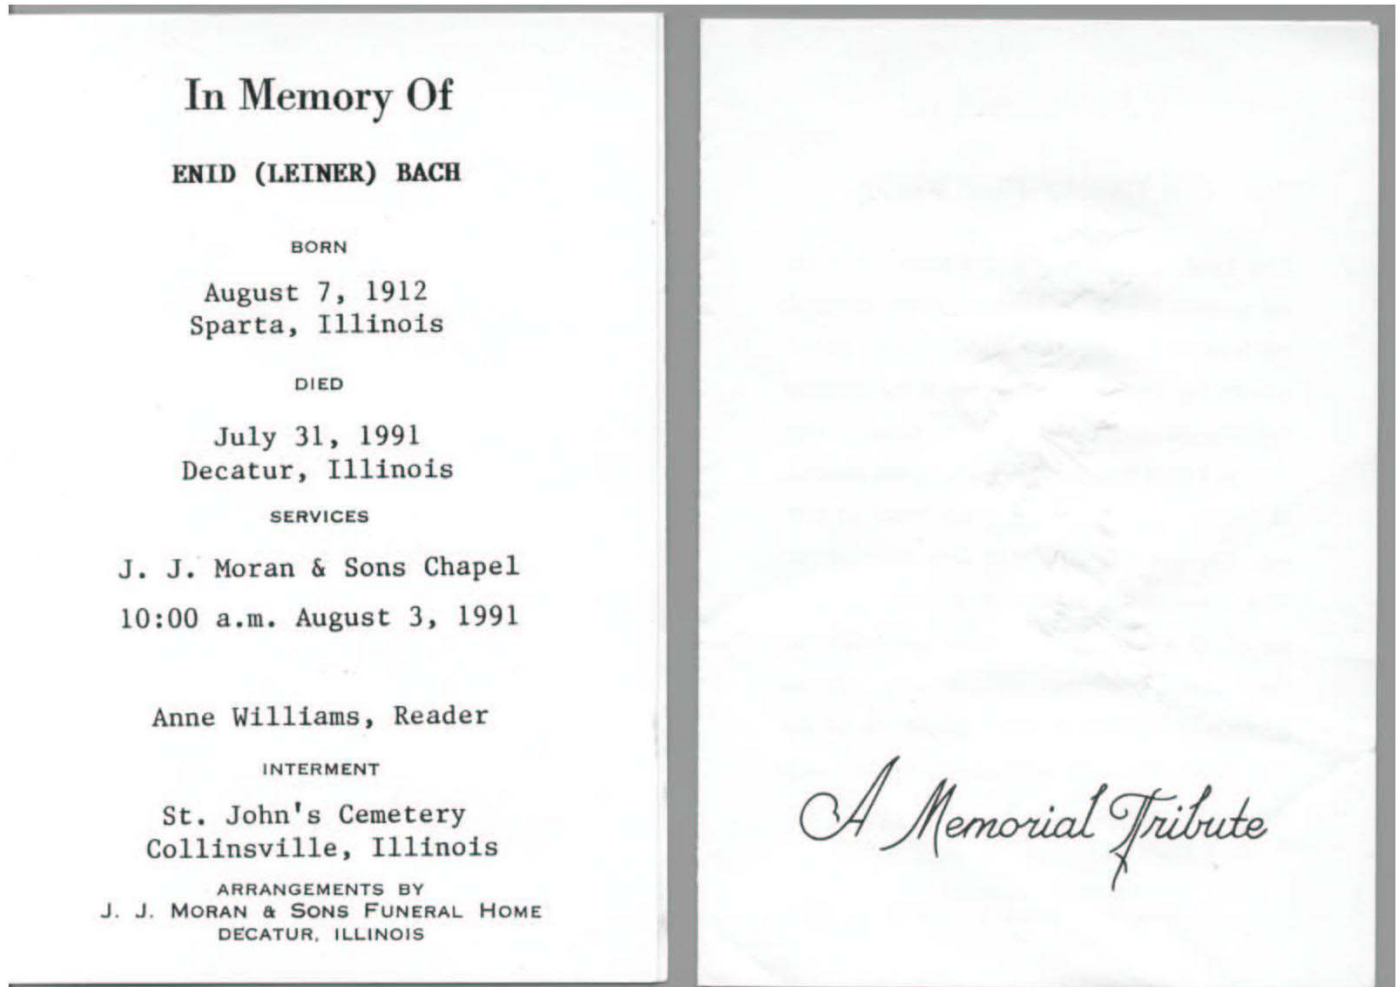

The last years of her life, Enid worked for an Attorney as his nanny. She was responsible for helping with his children.

Enid (LEINER) Bach had worked (1974) in the office of A.W. Cash Company (Cashco) in Decatur, Illinois. They manufactured valves. They were tearing out asbestos from the ceilings and walls and Enid had to walk through the open plant to get to her office.

The company failed to protect the employees with breathing apparatus as they conducted this restoration and Enid came home from work one day and informed Bonnie she thought she had ingested some of the asbestos material.

1992 TEMPLE PROXY

On November 6 & 7, 1992, daughter Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt, her husband Floyd Thomas Pratt, their daughters Laura and Crystal went to the Chicago Illinois Temple of The Church Of Jesus Christ Of Latter Day Saints to perform the vicarious sealing ordinances for Enid (LEINER) Bach.

Laura was baptized on behalf of her grandmother, Crystal was proxy for Enid and was confirmed by Tom, Bonnie performed the Initiatory and Endowment ordinances for Enid, then Bonnie stood as proxy for Enid.

Tom was proxy for Robert Louis Bach in their Eternal Marriage Sealing. A Temple Patron stood as proxy to seal Bonnie to her parents, then Bonnie stood as Hazelton Marye (DILLARD) Leiner, Tom as Frederic Thomas Leiner and the Temple worker proxy for Enid, as these three were eternally united as a family.

As of today, August 24, 2008, all Enid's family except her brother Fred, who is still living, has been sealed as a family. I hope to outlive him to see his temple ordinances performed. I did the temple work for my Uncle Fred's wife, Joann Harvard (GROUT) Leiner. I hope to seal her to mom's brother Uncle Frederic "Fred" Corbin Leiner. Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt F.H.C.

Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt F.H.C.

Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt circa 1995

Bonnie began her professional career working in her father; Robert Louis Bach's bank...the Bartelso Savings Bank in Bartelso, Santa Fe Township, Clinton County, Illinois, United States.

Learning such skills as documentation, organization, detail to accounting procedures and the necessity of keeping good records, Bonnie honed these skills, which would later be an asset in family history research.

Bonnie began her family history research career in 1975 after becoming a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Her first calling as a new member was to serve in the newly created genealogical department or known today as the Family History Center in the Springfield, Missouri Ward. This two-year calling gave Bonnie a tremendous amount of experience helping others to research their families.

In fact, she felt family history research was fun and came easy. When others took vacations to exotic places, Bonnie and family went to courthouses, cemeteries and libraries covering coast to coast in pursuit of her family records.

She walked on the old Dillard Plantation in Spotsylvania County, Virginia and collected souvenirs of a hand made nail and a hand made brick from the old plantation known as Aspen Grove. She cracked open the courthouse records in Randolph County, Illinois locating marriages, deeds, wills and court records deciphering her family roots in pursuit of knowledge concerning her ancestors.

While she endeavored to find these records, a profound love for her ancestors developed over the years and a strong sense of kinship for those who paved the trails in her past became a motivating factor in her desire to know the reasons for their sacrifices.

Parents, brothers, sisters, aunts and uncles all inquired of her stories and details of her family history research and she became a well-known scholar concerning their roots.

In reality, years of reading and studying increased her expertise and she made it look fun and easy to others. Due to her example she exhibited for the love of ancestors, she inspired others in her family to pursue their family history. All of this was accomplished while raising 6 children.

This dedication and talent did not go unnoticed by the Lord and over the course of several years, Bonnie was asked by her church to instruct several family history courses.

With the assistance of her husband; Floyd Thomas Pratt, Bonnie and Floyd developed several books and courses designed to increase the knowledge of family history researchers. These books, articles, stories and commentaries can be found at the following locations.

A Little Something About Your Author.....

Offering to the public, a series of books titled, Pratt Progenitor Papers. This series of volumes are a collection of legal documents, stories, pictures and historical presentations concerning the families of Missouri, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina.

The first three Volumes were released to the public in 1991 and were issued to 18 different libraries including the Library of Congress and the St. Louis Public Library. The next 11 volumes were sent to the Salt Lake Genealogical Library with 60 volumes scheduled for publication.

Bonnie and Floyd created the Genealogical Institute to further the education of serious researchers.

The Genealogical Institute offers a series of educational materials to teach and instruct the novice as well as advanced researchers, procedures Bonnie and Floyd have tried and tested to be of great value in family history research. These courses offer “a hands on” curriculum designed to instruct in investigative, deductive reasoning and logical techniques for tracking your family history. Many have found a treasure chest of knowledge when undertaking these courses.

Bonnie and Floyd have taken the hobby of genealogy and have enhanced it into a science. Heavy on instructions concerning documentation, research procedures, alternative sources and common public records, these courses are valuable tools for the family history researcher. The Pratts have been informed by researchers their material found in their publications are recorded as source validation for such organizations as the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) and the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR).

In pursuit of their family history knowledge, the Pratts did not fail in increasing their educational knowledge and both became qualified Family History Consultants (FHC) through a course study offered by their Church.

The Pratt's ability in family history research has amazed many experienced researchers. When Bonnie and Floyd are asked for help concerning a stumbling block in someone's family research, their quick wit and logical minds rapid fires instructions and procedures so fast the delighted researcher cannot write the instructions quickly enough. Little do other researchers realize, this knowledge has been acquired over 40 years of research.

As the years moved on, Mr. Pratt became concerned about their 40 years of hard research work of various family histories. After a serious heart attack in 2012, Mr. Pratt decided to post their collective bodies of work on a website making them available to all interested researchers without compensation.

After careful consideration, Mr. Pratt chose the website www.openlibrary.org. “Open Library” is a repository of millions of digital books available to the public for free.

There are two or more ways to access Bonnie and Floyd's publications.

Vital Text Series This section covers public vital records. Including marriage records, deeds, census records, births, deaths, probate and indexes to public records. The counties of Missouri covered are as follows; Crawford, Washington, Franklin, Gasconade, St. François, Ste. Genevieve, and Jefferson counties.

Pratt Archive Collections This Collections comprises of a series of books containing cemeteries, family histories, biographies and various books by individual authors. There are several sections with this group... Cemeteries contain documented census information for various cemeteries in Crawford, Washington and Franklin Counties of Missouri. Family Histories are a collection of historical books concerning a group of a family or family names.

CRADLE TO GRAVE (C2G) PROFILES The Cradle to Grave Profile (C2G) documents an individual's life from the cradle to the grave. All known research material concerning that individual is represented in a family group sheet format. These C2G profiles are presented to the researcher within a family group sheet detailing the husband, his spouses and all known children. Regardless of how many times the subject has been married, the researcher receives a full report on all known spouses and children for one low fee.

The Pratt Chronicles... The Pratt Chronicles series or what we call a Cradle to Grave (C2G) profile on steroids, is an in-depth comprehensive biography on one individual's life encompassing all known events, including historical factors from the time of their birth to their burial. These events are comprised of current music, inventions, movies, family births, deaths, marriages, legal documents, occupations, military participation, pictures, maps, mementos, world history, US history and economic conditions as they occurred on a yearly basis.

LITERARY HISTORY SERIES contains rare books concerning family history written by other authors...many who are deceased. These books were bought over the years and now enjoy the status of a rare find in the genealogical library.

VIEW FROM THE MAST... Over the years, the Pratt's have found it necessary to write articles concerning observations concerning various family history topics or what we call personal artifacts. These reports, articles and short stories are contained in this section labeled...View From the Mast.

Having a unique perspective from the top of mast on the sailing ship of discovery, the Pratt's have sailed through the waters of family history research for the last 40 years. These articles were designed to bring to the attention of family historians some unusual details they have witnessed during his research tenure.

Genealogical Institute M.A.G.I. Courses These courses were developed over the years to assist the novice as well as the professional in all manners pertaining to family history research. Written in easy to read format with detailed explanations concerning various subjects of interest to family history researchers.

Pratt Progenitor Papers Series This series is comprised of the famous Pratt Progenitor Papers. Starting with a known ancestor, this collection covers 2 or more generations of descendants. Each volume follows a particular individual and his descendants including children, grandchildren and spouses if known. Each of these volumes include legal and detailed information about a particular ancestor...many contain Cradle to Grave (C2G) Profiles. The order of reporting is as follows: 1st a Descendancy report on the primary, which is usually the husband; 2nd the primary or husband followed by all known wives, then 3rd the second generation comprising of all known children and their spouses, followed by additional subsequent generations of descendants. The PPP are light on speculation and assumptions, heavy on factual documentation offering research insights and suggestions.

ANCESTRAL FAMILY HISTORY OF... This book showcases a selected individual usually a living descendant, detailing their direct line ancestors as far as the research has been completed. This type of format is known as an enhanced pedigree chart. These books contain as many as 10 to 70 generations limited only by the number of ancestors of our primary individual. Whereas, pedigree charts list only the vitals on an individual, these books generate all known notes, articles, legal documents and if applicable, Cradle to Grave (C2G) Profiles on each and every direct line ancestor and their spouses.

A Little Something About Your Author.....

Floyd Thomas Pratt F.H.C., M.A.G.I.

At the age of 19, Mr. Pratt embarked on a career in law enforcement. This experience gave him training in detective and investigative skills. Little did Mr. Pratt know, how useful these skills would be in the field of genealogy.

Floyd started his family research career in 1975 after becoming a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. His first calling as a new member was to serve in the newly created genealogical department or known today as the Family History Center in the Springfield, Missouri ward. This two-year calling gave Mr. Pratt a tremendous amount of experience helping others to research their families.

In fact, he felt family research came easy and required little effort on his part. In reality, years of reading and studying increased his expertise and he made it look easy to others. Over the course of several years, Mr. Pratt was asked by his church to instruct several family history courses. This experience established a deep profound love for family and ancestors. It was not uncommon for Mr. Pratt to spend 4 to 8 hours a day researching and compiling family histories in addition to his duties, as an entrepreneur in the insurance business.

The first major achievement for Mr. Pratt was a breakthrough on his Pratt family back to the early 1800's. Due to confusion with Pratt ancestors and not satisfied with just the direct line research, Mr. Pratt branched out to research all connected lines and allied families.

This dedication led to 50,000 individuals in his database and has achieved expert status for Mr. Pratt on the families of middle and eastern Missouri, eastern and western Tennessee and central North Carolina.

Concerning Mr. Pratt's style of research, he is a strong supporter of the "hands on" approach. When he took family vacations, they usually went to libraries, cemeteries, courthouses, National Archive centers, and visited family members in various states. He attended family reunions and obtained his material from the actual sources when possible.

He began to offer to the public, a series of books titled, Pratt Progenitor Papers. This series of volumes are a collection of legal documents, stories, pictures and historical presentations concerning the families of Missouri, Tennessee and North Carolina.

The first three Volumes were released to the public in 1991 and were issued to 18 different libraries including the Library of Congress and the St. Louis Public Library. The next 11 volumes were sent to the Salt Lake Genealogical Library with 60 volumes scheduled for publication.

(M.A.G.I.)* Written in easy to read format with detailed explanations concerning various subjects of interest to family history researchers.

Mr. Pratt’s ability in family history research has amazed many experienced researchers. When Mr. Pratt is asked for help concerning their “brick wall” in their family research, his quick wit and logical mind rapid fires instructions and procedures so fast they cannot write the material quickly enough. Little do they realize, this knowledge has been acquired over 40 years of research.

In June of 2000, Mr. Pratt undertook a new and unprecedented task. Outside of Washington, Saint John’s Township, Franklin County, Missouri is an old cemetery called the Johnson-Caldwell Cemetery aka; misnamed the McAllister Cemetery. This cemetery has many pioneer heroes and ancestors of various descendants from that region. Some of the inhabitants were born in the 1750’s and arrived in the Missouri Territory shortly after the 1803 Louisiana Purchase.

Mr. Pratt recorded all the information off of the headstones including every person in the cemetery and researched each individual related to Mr. Pratt or not. 1000 man-hours and two years later, he published the book “JOHNSON-CALDWELL CEMETERY OF FRANKLIN COUNTY, MISSOURI”©.

Obtaining newspapers, legal documents, talking to ancestors and researching various sources for any and all information concerning the history of the cemetery and the inhabitants produced this master text.

What makes this book unique is based on several factors. First, it is the only book to report on each inhabitant, their birth and activities throughout their life until their death, including their ancestors, spouses and children. Second, this book contains a unique index, listing the individual and their father’s name if known. This is extremely helpful when several individuals have the same given name.

Upon examination, professional researchers have hailed this body of work as a masterpiece and a standard in which all future research should be based. No one has ever produced a body of work as unique and professional as this publication.

As the years moved on, Mr. Pratt became concerned about his 40 years of hard research work of various family histories. After a serious heart attack in 2012, Mr. Pratt decided to post his collective bodies of work on a website making them available to all interested researchers without compensation.

GENEALOGY ETIQUETTE

1. Do not give copies or reproduce the information you received from the compiler or author without written permission.
2. In your research efforts if you are able to advance the research, then reciprocate by sharing your research information with the compiler.
3. Use the information you receive as a starting point for your research of your families.
4. If you decide to use information you have received, in a book, document or research material, be sure to acknowledge the author or compiler of that material.
5. All inquiries by third parties for a copy of the material should be forwarded to the original compiler or author.
6. Do not loan or share your information, family heirlooms, special documents, one of a kind, pictures, or irreplaceable materials to non-professional researchers or family members. These types of materials seem to disappear or become damaged.
7. Make copies of important documents or materials when at libraries and be sure to write the name of the book, source, letter or film with the author's name and page number and year of publication.
8. Genealogy work that is not documented is of little value. Remember, you are leaving a trail for those who follow. If future researchers have to verify your work, then of what value is your work?
9. Collect family stories from those relatives who are still alive. This is a short cut to your past and they hold a world of knowledge about your family.
10. Do not try to finance all your research alone. Ask for financial assistance from interested family members.

Remember, the family history information that is so easily exchanged today by computer was acquired over years and years of on-site research. While many were engaged in raising families, working for income, and surviving, genealogist researchers did these things AND spent their free time in pursuit of the truth about their ancestors. This pursuit required great sacrifice of time, effort and money. Many researchers went to the actual locations to view the marriage, deed, death and birth records including visiting the cemeteries across the United States and foreign countries. This is why it is important to follow the above guidelines; by doing so, you give respect to their work and honor to their memory. Thank You.
